

Cooking and Baking During the War of Northern Aggression

By Robert Pelton

Paperback. Condition: New. 252 pages. Cooking and Baking During the War of Northern Aggression is full of delicious foods as prepared and favored by many famous people of days long past. It contains the prized recipes for those dishes cooked by, or eaten by, some of the better known as well as lesser-known figures from the Civil War era of our glorious history. Included are recipes for tasty breads and interesting baked goods, skillet southern fried chicken and really good poultry dishes. Here you will also be treated to many taste-tempting soups, stews and stuffings and, yes, even pickles as well as loads of other wonderful things. You may wish to try some buttermilk or cherry pie, an array of wonderful desserts, rhubarb punch and other delightful beverages. Then make the unique corn bread with a streak of delicious custard running through it. Yes, you can now enjoy a meal exactly like that eaten by those who wore both the blue and the gray during the War Between the States or as some unreconstructed Southerners still refer to it the War of Northern Aggression. Here you will find the favorites of such historical luminaries as Abraham Lincoln who dearly loved...
