Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Alabama Girls Technical Institute Bulletin, 1916, Vol. 10: Proceedings of the Second Annual Conference Alabama Home Economics Association So far we have been dealing with the general principles underlying modern demand for a reorganization of the school curriculum; the demand that the new curriculum shall depend for its value less on training for discipline and more on the value of the content. The demand for the introduction of social materials is based. Further on the theory that only here is the interest, initiative, motive and free dom of the pupil provided for; so only here does education of the best sort take place. Let us now consider briefly how these home activities may be actually introduced into the school. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
