THE PONTIFICAL DECREES AGAINST THE MOTION OF THE EARTH (PAPERBACK)

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2014. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .WE have said a few words on this pamphlet towards the end of our article on the Definition of Papal Infallibility; and have expressed our hope that in April we shall be able to publish a full reply. At present we have only to make two observations. All ordinary readers, we think, on reading its title and perusing its contents, will understand the author as criticising the Abbe Bouix and ourselves on the ground of our advanced Ultramontanism. Further, as regards ourselves, such readers will understand our advanced Ultramontanism to consist, according to the writer, in our having confidently maintained as an important thesis, that all doctrinal decrees of a Pontifical congregation, which purport to be published by the Pope s command, or which otherwise express his assent, are to be accounted his ex cathedra Acts. Now we are far from having thus spoken. The theory in question, we said (Dr. Ward s Doctrinal Decisions, p. 131) is at least very plausible; we strongly incline to it (p. 129); but the question at last is of no very great practical moment (p. 131). Our argument in fact had comparatively little concern with ex cathedra Acts at all; and so far as it did deal with them, our thesis was-not that congregational decrees are infallible if confirmed by the Pope-but that they are most certainly not infallible if not confirmed by him. The writer before us, however, pursues another course of reasoning, which is in every way immeasurably more important than his criticism of Dr. Ward. He maintains that, according to the principles laid down by Popes themselves, the Pontifical condemnations of Galileo were ex cathedra. In our future article it will be...
